PERSONAL

F. J. ABBOTT, president of Lone Mountain Divide and George W. Spencer, assistant engineer, departed last evening for San Francisco to arrange for completing the equipment of his mine. Mr. Abbott will return next week.

FRED B. MECHLING, district manager of the Nevada-California Power company, left last evening on a three months' leave of absence. He will devote part of the time to his ranch interests in Butte county, California, and to his mining investments in British Columbia.

JAMES S. WOOD, the retired pioneer cattleman of Smoky Valley, came to Tonopah last Tuesday evening to attend the 1901 pioneer reunion and the big Elk initiation.

MISS ETHEL WISWALL visited Tonopah yesterday from Keystone.

DR. J. L. PENNINGTON was among the outgoing passengers last night bound for the coast where he will spend the next two weeks.

TOM KENDALL returned to Goldfield last evening. Mr. Kendall was among those present at the 1901 reunion Tuesday evening.

L. AMBLER, of Reno, was an arrival at the Mispah this morning. JAMES KIRKWOOD and wife of Cleveland, O., are registered at the Mispah.

WALTER RAYBOLD of Ely was in arrival today.

MRS. GEO. MURPHY came in on this morning's train from Oakland and will visit her husband at the Divide.

GEORGE KERNICK, vice president of the Arrowhead, left for San Francisco on last night's train.

MISS LAURA AMBLER, representing the Reno Gazette, was an arrival on this morning's train.

ED. AND RICHARD RAYCRAFT, brothers of Arthur Raycraft, cashier of the Tonopah First National bank, are spending a few days in Tonopah.

Saline Plants.

Saline plants are plants such as saltworts, seaweeds, grasswack, sea kale and asparagus, which grow on the seashore, or by the side of salt lakes, or in the beds of lakes which have dried up. They are rich in saline constituents, and when burnt their ashes were formerly used in the production of barilla, an impure carbonate of soda. This used to be employed in the manufacture of soap, glass and other products.

Female Micawbers.

"I was standing on my doorstep," this is the stock observation of nearly all ladies who bring their little differences into the Cardiff police court. It was repeated by more than one lady in the stipendiary magistrate's court and it would seem that there are many ladies in Modern Athens who are perpetually upon the front doorstep waiting, like Micawber, for something to turn up—Cardiff Western Mail.

A little gadding judiciously administered often makes a weak man strong.

BEAUTIFUL NORMA TALMADGE TODAY.

Norma Talmadge, the beautiful Select star, will appear at the Butler today in her Select Picture, "The Heart of Wetona." This is an Indian story, beginning when Quannah, a chief of a tribe of Comanche Indians, learns that his daughter, Wetona, has been wronged by a white man. Wetona's mother was a white woman and Wetona has been brought up as a white girl. The Comanches decide to seek vengeance. They will find the man who has wronged the daughter of the chief of their tribe and put him to death. Wetona refuses to tell the name of her lover. All she will tell her father is that he is a white man. She goes to John Hardin, the agent in charge of the reservation, and the only white man the Indians trust, to ask him to save her lover. While she is talking to Hardin, Quannah in his search for the man who wronged his daughter sees Wetona and Hardin talking so intimately together that he judges Hardin must be his daughter's lover. Hardin, in order to save Wetona, offers to marry her. Tony, a good-for-nothing, is the man Wetona loves. Later her eyes are opened to the kind of a man he really is and she has a change of heart and Hardin is made happy.

Added to the feature, the latest Pathé News.

Tomorrow, William S. Hart, in "Squinty Deal Sanderson" and a Bray cartoon comedy.

Coming Monday, Rex Beach's crowning triumph, his thrilling Alaska story, "The Girl From Outside," a powerful drama of the great north.

OLD TIMERS TELL OF PIONEER DAYS

may this 1st and I said, 'No.' Ten years ago today you struck the Frisco. Well then I went away. I went away the first time and I don't blame anybody, but the second time I blame myself."

Booth: "You went out on account of the epidemic—and I believe you walked out, eh?"

"No, I didn't walk out on the epidemic, I went out on a freight train. There were a whole lot in the same boat with me but I am like the old soldier; he didn't run cause he was scared. Well, that is all right. In all seriousness we are back again and we got the old timers together. It is in me tonight to describe the feeling tonight, to see Charlie Blumenthal, Tom Kendall and Sam Forman, the wife next to him and all down the line, there is nothing that will express my feeling and I am going to ask Bill Booth right away to recite a poem that he had in his office today. 'Want to go back to Nevada?' I move it and I believe everyone will second the motion."

"Well now, coming up to what is all more or less of a selfish nature, and I do not believe there is more selfishness in the world than the old Nevada bunch, but let's look at the future. We can live in the past but we want to live in the future, and I believe that we have the greatest and grandest future that was ever offered to us in the world today in Nevada. It cannot be stopped, silver at $125, and while we were here digging for silver at $75, $80, $90, $100 and once it got up to $125, and oh gee, we were all in weren't we, but God knows it must have been right, for I remember Blumenthal bought the cigars when it went to $100."

"I want to say that we have got a future before us; that never in the world was ours as it is today. I got it from the east, I got it from the middle west, and I have got it all along the line, and honest to goodness, we are here to see a grand future, one we have never realized in the past and all we got to do is to get shoulder to shoulder and get the spirit of 1901 and see that nothing in the world happens to stop our going ahead to be one of the greatest mining communities in the United States or the entire world."

"I am here, but modesty speaking, pardon me for referring to myself, from now on, I thank you."

A superstitious individual says it is a bad sign to write another man's name on a note.

Saving Expensive Ink.
An economy in expensive drawing ink, ordinarily used with a ruling pen, is effected by substituting common writing ink for the drawing ink on many kinds of work in which permanence is not a special factor, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. A convenience, in using this substitute ink in the ordinary containers, is to insert a pen point by the pointed end into the bottle cork. This provides a handy ruling-pen filler, similar to the usual quill stoppers.

Glanders in the Cat Family.
Glanders is an ancient usually associated with horses, but an outbreak of this disease among the lions and tigers of the Rome Zoological garden is reported in the Annals d'Igiene. The disease is known to have been transmitted from horses to lions, tigers and leopards, and the domestic cat was shown susceptible by laboratory investigation.

Homing Instinct Supreme.
Science cannot explain the wonderful instinct which brings the pigeon to its home, but it is stronger than four or any other obstacle. Liberated in the face of the heaviest barrage, it circles in the air to get its bearings, rises swiftly to a height of half a mile, then is off with the speed of a bullet. For a distance of 30 miles they are capable of making two miles a minute, and have flown 300 miles on a single flight.

Had Improved on Phrase.
An aged banker once said to a friend: "Yes, I expect to marry one of the proudest and most beautiful girls in New York. You see, a young suitor sings to his sweetheart, 'Love Me—and the World Is Mine.' But I've got a better method, by jingo. I sing, 'Love Me—and the World Is Thine.' I'm bound to win out, don't you think so, George?"
